

July 25 - 27, 2006

McCormick Place Convention Center Chicago, Illinois Connect with the valuable business opportunities at the world's largest clinical laboratory medicine exposition.

American Association for Clinical Chemistry

Please join us for the 2006 AACC Annual Meeting and Clinical Lab Expo, July 23 – 27, 2006 in Chicago, Illinois.

2006 brings with it exciting new challenges and opportunities in clinical laboratory science and medicine. AACC is committed to leading these developments and providing a venue for people from around the world to share new ideas, technologies, and products. We invite you to take part in this dynamic and unparalleled exchange during the AACC Clinical Lab Expo in Chicago, Illinois, July 25 - 27, 2006.

With more than 600 companies displaying products and services for clinical laboratories, the Clinical Lab Expo has become the premier marketplace and largest exposition of its kind in the world. International attendance continues to grow rapidly, constituting nearly 25% of total attendance in 2005, with more than 100 countries represented.

In 2006, the Annual Meeting education program will feature more than 200 sessions related to a broad variety of areas of concern to professionals in clinical laboratory medicine. You are also invited to attend the Conference, July 23 – 27, 2006. (Registration and payment of conference fees are required for Conference participation.)

In the following pages, you will find everything you need to know about arranging your participation at this year's Clinical Lab Expo, including housing and registration information and forms. There is no charge to attend the Expo. You can get information about registering electronically via AACC's website at www.aacc.org/2006AM.

During the Annual Meeting and Expo, the AACC International Visitors Center will provide you with a spacious lounge, private rooms for meetings with exhibitors, and a computerized matching system to link you with appropriate suppliers at the event. Staff in the International Visitors Center is available to help you find companies that want to do business with you.

Please take a moment to review the enclosed brochure and make your arrangements to attend. You may contact us through AACC's website at www.aacc.org/2006AM or email Danielle Kleman at dkleman@aacc.org for more information.

Thank you for your interest in our Expo! We sincerely hope you will be able to join us and look forward to hosting you in Chicago!

Sincerely,

Gail E. Mutnik, MPA Director of Meetings

APPLY FOR YOUR VISA NOW

Due to heightened security in the United States we urge you not to delay in the visa process. Requesting visas early in the year will help you in gaining entry into the U.S. Do not delay and miss this event. Several Department of Commerce overseas offices arrange official delegations to the Expo. If you are interested in attending with such a group, please contact your local United States Commercial Service office.

It is important to apply for your VISA as early as possible. The following are some useful VISA applications tips:

- :: Apply as soon as possible.
- :: Attaching evidence of your previous visits to the AACC Annual Meeting and/or Clinical Lab Expo may help the application processing time.
- :: Attaching evidence of your intended return trip to your home country can shorten the application processing time.
- :: If your local U.S. Consular Office requests that you obtain a "Letter of Invitation" from AACC, please send: your full name, title, organization, address, phone and fax number to AACC

CONNECT WITH CLINICAL LABORATORY PROFESSIONALS AND MANUFACTURERS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

This is the largest exposition and scientific meeting in the world for clinical laboratory science. With international participation growing each year, it is also the premier marketplace for reviewing new products and services. We anticipate record-breaking attendance in Chicago.

THE INTERNATIONAL VISITORS CENTER MAKES CONNECTING EASY

The International Visitors Center (IVC) provides special services through the U.S. Department of Commerce's International Buyer's Program and AACC to assist international visitors.

:: The international matchmaking service

The IVC includes:

- :: The computerized matching service enabling exhibitors and international delegates to secure real trade leads and act on those leads while at the Expo
- :: On-site Trade Specialists from the Department of Commerce who provide export assistance and counseling
- :: Meeting rooms
